Joe, at this point, you need to state your position in writing, and do that quickly. We will consider it if you do so, but we've been trying to find a time to talk to you for the better part of two days and you're now asking to punt again. Tell us what you have to say, we'll consider it, and we'll proceed accordingly. If we don't hear from you by 10am tomorrow we'll have to file our letter.

Joe: Please let me know when you are available to speak. Attached here are subpoenas we are serving today in connection with the additional witnesses disclosed in the above-captioned action and one in connection solely with 24-mc-353 (to Mr. Kalin). Please confirm if you are authorized to accept service on behalf of any of the subpoena recipients.

We are serving these subpoenas to protect our rights to obtain documents and testimony from these newly disclosed witnesses, but remain open to an agreement from you that you will not be calling any or all of them at trial. Note also that we still have not received information from you sufficient even to identify Mr. Robert Wagner from the multitude of people having that name, much less to locate and serve him.

Once again, Plaintiffs reserve all rights, including the right to seek preclusion of any or all of these newly disclosed witnesses' testimony in light of these circumstances.

Joe, thanks for speaking earlier. To confirm our conversation, you'll confer with your client and get back to us ASAP about which (if any) of the newly disclosed witnesses you plan to call at trial. We'll serve our subpoenas and consider whether they remain necessary once we have confirmation from you about whether any or all of these witnesses may be called.

You'll also get back to us ASAP with address information for Mr. Ragusa and Mr. Wagner.

Plaintiffs reserve all rights.

Thanks,
Aaron

Joe: in light of your lack of response, we will be serving document and deposition subpoenas on each of the newly disclosed witnesses, including deposition subpoenas for December 26, 27, 30, and 31. Do you have or would you obtain authorization to accept service of these subpoenas on behalf of Dr. Ryan, Mr. Medrano, Mr. Ricci, Mr. Ragusa, and Mr. Wagner? Please let me know if you're available to meet and confer about that before 2pm today.

If not, with respect to two witnesses, Michael Ragusa and Robert Wagner, you have not provided any address or telephone number, but it is not plausible that Mr. Giuliani does not have access to this information if he is intending to rely on their testimony at trial. Please immediately provide an address and telephone number for each of them so that we can serve document and deposition subpoenas today. If your client does not cooperate in making these witnesses available for deposition and document productions, we will seek an order from the court precluding your client's reliance on their testimony in this action.

We remain open to entering a stipulation agreeing that Mr. Giuliani will not rely on these witnesses' testimony in this action, which would avoid the need for this extensive third-party discovery occasioned by your client's late disclosures.

Thank you.

Subject: Freeman v. Giuliani, 24-cv-6563

Joe:

Mr. Giuliani's amended initial disclosures list five new witnesses likely to have discoverable information in connection with the homestead case (Dr. Ryan, Mr. Medrano, Mr. Ricci, Mr. Ragusa, and Mr. Wagner). As a result, we are preparing document and deposition subpoenas to each of the newly disclosed witnesses, with the plan to depose each of them between December 20, 2024 and December 31, 2024. While Plaintiffs reserve all rights, we are unsure whether Mr. Giuliani intends to call any of these newly disclosed witnesses at trial. As a result, it is unclear whether it will be necessary for us to spend the final days of 2024 taking, and you defending, five new third-party depositions. If you are able to stipulate that Mr. Giuliani will not be calling any or all of the newly disclosed witnesses at trial, we may be able to avoid the need to take those depositions.

Please confirm by the end of the day whether Mr. Giuliani intends to call any of those witnesses at trial and, if not, whether Mr. Giuliani will stipulate to the same.

Thanks,
Aaron
